ANNEXURE -C

Dressing room areas. Minimum standards by ICC

In order that National Boards, stadium managers and other interested parties are made aware of the measures recommended by the ICC to combat corruption, it is essential that they be provided with minimum standard, approved by the ICC Board, from which they can work.

I have outlined below 11 separate recommendations for consideration.

It must be understood from the outset that these recommendations are not designed to be draconian or to isolate players from genuine fans nor the public in general, but should be viewed as one part of the ICC's anti corruption strategy

1. The dressing room area must have a simple and easily recognizable accreditation system

Passes allowing access to the dressing room area must be distinctive and easy to read

They must bear the photograph and the name of the person to whom it is issued

The provision of passes is the responsibility of the home board, which must make adequate arrangements for speedy replacement of damaged or lost passes

A comprehensive list of pass~s and the person to whom they have been issued must be kept

2. Access should be restricted to members of the team and officials whose presence in the dressing room area is essential. As a guide access should be restricted to

- (a) Players
- (b) Managers
- (c) Coach
- (d) Physio
- (e) Team scorers
- (f) Team doctor
- (g) Local liaison officer
- (h) Umpire
- (i) Referee
- (j) ACU representative

Additional passes Maybe required for others such as the following:

- (a) 1 or 2 members of the organizing authority
- (b) Dressing room valet
- (c) Catering staff
- (d) Security staff

Allocation of passes should be by the home board in consultation with the visiting team, the stadium management and the ACU representative

Entry to the DRESSING ROOM Itself may only be allowed with the pe~ission of the manager

- 3. All persons entering the dressing room area must wear the appropriate identification
- 4. Other than players and other official members of the team, all persons must wear the appropriate identification whilst In the dressing room area
- 5. No person is allowed to enter the dressing room area, who is not officially accredited, except with the specific permission of one of the team managers who must make the appropriate officials aware of such permission. (such persons might include Board officials, equipment suppliers etc.) Entry on an adhoc basis cannot be permitted
- 6. The home board must provide adequate security staff to ensure that the restrictions on entry can be properly enforced.

Staff should be of a sufficiently high caliber to control and where necessary prevent entry in a firm but polite manner

Security staff must be properly briefed before and during tournaments

Personnel should be instantly recognizable as security officers/stewards

At each entrance to the dressing room area a minimum of 2 security officers/stewards should be on duty at any one time in order that, in the event of a query, the post is not left unmanned

A person who is authorized to make decisions and deal with queries must supervise each dressing room security team

7. At each entrance a photograph board should be displayed bearing duplicate photographs of those persons to whom passes have been issued AND a copy of the type of pass that allows entry to the dressing room area
8. The carriage and use of mobile phones and other communication devices should not be allowed within the dressing room area. As a guide line the carriage of mobile phones should be prohibited on departure from the hotel until close of play on that day
9. The manager of each team should be exempt from the above recommendation and should be allowed to carry a mobile phone on the understanding that it can be used by players to make emergency outgoing calls and can receive incoming urgent calls for players
10. Static telephones capable of making or receiving outside calls should not be allowed in the dressing room area
11. Where possible the home board should install CCTV to cover access points to the dressing rooms. Ideally this system should be compatible with systems used in other countries.

ANNEXURE -D

Safety and Security Measures by ICC

The current short-term guidelines by the ICC are as follows. Comments from the steering Group are shown in italics

Player behavior - measures to strengthen the players' Code of Conduct to make dissent and/or incitement of the crowd a greater offence (achieved by ICC in the new players Code of Conduct). This was noted.

Television replays – contentious replays would be reduced to one at slow motion and one at full speed only. It was recommended that ICC issue a set of guidelines to the countries to achieve uniformity at all grounds. As part of the guidelines, it was suggested to confirm with CC-M that no replay is shown on the big screen until after the 3rd umpire has made his decision.

Policing Stewarding etc. - each country to provide a stewarding plan to the ICC and the visiting country one month prior to the start of the series. There was general recognition and acceptance that policing and stewarding would vary from country to country. It was mentioned that it might be difficult for a country to finalize its plan 1 month prior to the series and it was suggested that this be reviewed by CC-M. The committee felt it was important for stewards to be properly trained. It was also pointed out that the safety and security of players and officials must be considered in its entirety as part of the whole crowd management plan rather than reacting to individual incidents. The education of the crowd was vitally important. Spectators needed to be constantly informed of their responsibilities in respect of safety at the ground. It was suggested that countries adopt better communication protocols for crowd management through public address announcements and other means of getting the message across to the spectators.

Missiles - all grounds to introduce search policies to remove prospects of dangerous objects or dangerous missiles being taken into the grounds. It was evident that countries have adopted this provision and random searches are now in place. It was suggested that all bags and food carriers are automatically searched and any object considered to be dangerous should be removed. Glass bottles and cans should be prohibited.

Pitch invasions - absolute of invasions of the playing area. Each country to bring forward a program of measures, if necessary, to address this problem. Failure to deliver a solution should subsequently be dealt with by a sanction or fines. Further review to be undertaken through full minimum standard processes. The committee was unanimous in their view that there should be no public access to the playing area at any time (other than authorized events such as lunchtime entertainment etc.)

Alcohol- no drinks to be brought into the ground or sold in the ground in a receptacle that could be used as a missile. It was noted from the feedback from countries that in some places there is a ban on alcohol being brought into the ground. It was not the view of the committee that this should be made mandatory as it was pointed out that a soft drink brought into the ground can be in a receptacle that could be used as a missile. The committee supported the provision and suggested that cans and glass bottles should be prevented from being taken into the ground or sold in the ground so as to minimize the risk of them being used as a missile.
